Academic Council Minutes
February 16, 2016
Midwestern State University

The Academic Council met Tuesday, February 16, 2016, in the Dillard College of Business Administration, Priddy Conference Room.

Voting members in attendance were:
- Dr. Marcy Brown Marsden, Dean, College of Science and Mathematics
- Dr. Matthew Capps, Interim Dean of the Billie Doris McAda Graduate School
- Dr. Michaeelle Kitchen, Interim Dean, West College of Education
- Dr. James Johnston, Dean, Gunn College of Health Sciences and Human Services
- Dr. Terry Patton, Dean, Dillard College of Business Administration
- Dr. Martin Camacho, Dean, Lamar D. Fain College of Fine Arts
- Dr. Sam Watson, Dean, Prothro-Yeager College of Humanities and Social Sciences
- Dr. Bradley Wilson, substituting for Dr. Laura Fidelie, Faculty Senate Vice-Chair

Voting member not in attendance was:
- Student Government Association Vice President

Other Attendees:
- Ms. Leah Hickman, Associate Director, Admissions
- Ms. Darla Inglish, Registrar
- Dr. Michael Mills, Director, International Programs
- Mr. Newman Wong, Staff Senate Representative

Dr. Betty Hill Stewart, Provost and Vice President for Academic Affairs, presided and the meeting began at 3:00 p.m.

Approval of Minutes

Dr. Stewart called for a motion to approve the December 2015 Minutes of the Academic Council. Dr. Johnston made a motion that the minutes be adopted; Dr. Capps seconded and the motion was unanimously adopted. (closed)

Old Business

There being no Old Business to discuss, the Council moved on to New Business.
New Business

1. Dr. Johnston made a motion that the following undergraduate course and catalog changes in Respiratory Care be adopted; Dr. Kitchen seconded and the motion was unanimously adopted. (closed)

Catalog Changes, effective fall 2016

PROGRESSION POLICY FOR BSRC DEGREE

Students must maintain satisfactory standards in classroom and clinical activities to be retained and to progress in the program. Requirements are as follows:

1. A minimum grade of C is required for all the following courses:
   - BIOL 1133, BIOL 1233, BIOL 2144
   - CHEM - 3 semester hours
   - Math area of the core - 3 semester hours
   - PSYC 1103 or SOCL 1133
   - Communication area of the core - 6 semester hours

   Failure to attain a minimum grade of C in each of these courses will prevent the student from being formally admitted to Respiratory Care. All of the above courses must be completed before starting the respiratory care curriculum.

2. A minimum grade of 75 (C) is required in all respiratory courses *(except RESP 4123). Failure to attain a minimum grade of C in these courses will prevent the student from progressing in the program. A student who fails to achieve a grade of C in any respiratory care course may repeat the course one time. Any student who fails to achieve a grade of C in any two respiratory care courses will be dismissed and not be eligible for readmission.

3. A student who withdraws from respiratory care courses and/or the University, must go through the respiratory care admission process again.

4. A student on university academic probation may not enter or progress in the program.

5. Failure to achieve a minimum grade of C when repeating a respiratory care course will result in dismissal from the program and the student may not reapply to this respiratory care program.

6. The BSRC Program's Admission Committee reserves the right to make exceptions to the above due to extenuating circumstances.

7. Respiratory care courses must be taken in the sequence prescribed.

RESP 4123 Data Analysis is on traditional grading scale 70 is considered a minimum grade of C in this course.

Progression Policy for RRT to BSRC Degree

Students must maintain satisfactory standards in classroom and clinical activities to be retained and to progress in the program. Requirements are as follows:

1. A minimum grade of 75 (C) is required in all respiratory courses *(except RESP 4123). Failure to attain a minimum grade of C in these courses will prevent the student from progressing in the program. A student who fails to achieve a grade of C in any respiratory care course may repeat the course one time. Any student who fails to achieve a grade of C in any two respiratory care courses will be dismissed and not be eligible for readmission.

2. Failure to achieve a minimum grade of C when repeating a respiratory care course will result in dismissal from the program and the student may not reapply to this respiratory care program.

3. The BSRC Program's Admission Committee reserves the right to make exceptions to the above due to extenuating circumstances.

*RESP 4123 Data Analysis is on traditional grading scale 70 is considered a minimum grade of C in this course.

2. Dr. Kitchen made a motion that the following undergraduate course and catalog changes in Kinesiology be adopted; Dr. Brown Marsden seconded and the motion was unanimously adopted. (closed)

New Course Addition, effective fall 2016

KNES 4913. Special Topics in Kinesiology
Prerequisite: None
Description: Topic as announced. Major project and/or field study with group sharing and analysis.
Seminar 3(2-2)
Course Objectives and/or additional information:
Students will:
1. Conduct an in-depth study of a current sport-related issue, and/or
2. Participate in a sport-related field experience, and or
3. Undertake a sport-related service learning project
Students will submit a formal written document appropriate to the experience
Students will create a presentation showcasing the experience

3. Dr. Kitchen made a motion that the following undergraduate course and catalog changes in Education and Reading be adopted; Dr. Capps seconded and the motion was unanimously adopted. (closed)

Change of Course Prerequisite, effective summer 2016

EDUC 4113. Planning & Assessment for Secondary Education and All-Level
Prerequisites: EPSY 3153 or concurrent enrollment.
Co-requisite(s): Must have concurrent enrollment in EDUC 3162. EDUC 3163

New Course Additions, effective fall 2016

READ 4233. Methods of Teaching Intermediate and Secondary Reading
Prerequisites: Admission to the teacher education program and EDUC 3183, SPED 3613, EDUC 3163, and ESPY 3153 completed in accordance with program requirements.
Description: Theoretical and evidence-based foundations of reading processes and TEKS based instruction. Assessment practices and instructional approaches to support a balanced and responsive literate environment that fosters comprehension.
Lecture/Lab 3(2-2)
Course Objectives and/or additional information:
Course Standards
The goals of the Reading Block are based on the International Literacy Association (ILA) (http://www.literacyworldwide.org/get-resources/standards/standards-for-reading-professionals/standards-2010-role-4) and the TExES Standards (http://cms.texes-ets.org/files/8813/9808/9661/elar_7_12_231.pdf)

Standards/Objectives
ILA Standards
1.1: Understand major theories and empirical research that describe the cognitive, linguistic, motivational, and sociocultural foundations of reading and writing development, processes, and components, including word recognition, language comprehension, strategic knowledge, and reading-writing connections.

2.1: Use foundational knowledge to design or implement an integrated, comprehensive, and balanced curriculum.

2.2: Use appropriate and varied instructional approaches, including those that develop word recognition, language comprehension, strategic knowledge, and reading-writing connections.

2.3: Use a wide range of texts (e.g., narrative, expository, and poetry) from traditional print, digital, and online resources.

3.1: Understand types of assessments and their purposes, strengths, and limitations.

3.3: Use assessment information to plan and evaluate instruction.

4.2: Use a literacy curriculum and engage in instructional practices that positively impact students' knowledge, beliefs, and engagement with the features of diversity.

5.4: Use a variety of classroom configurations (i.e., whole class, small group, and individual) to differentiate instruction.

TExES English Language Arts and Reading 7–12 Standards
Standard I: English language arts teachers in grades 7–12 know how to design and implement instruction that is appropriate for each student, reflects knowledge of the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills (TEKS), integrates all components of the English language arts (i.e., writing, reading, listening/speaking, viewing/representing) and is based on continuous assessment.

Standard II: English language arts teachers in grades 7–12 understand the processes of reading and teach students to apply these processes.

Standard III: English language arts teachers in grades 7–12 understand reading skills and strategies for various types of nonliterary texts and teach students to apply these skills and strategies to enhance their lifelong learning.

Standard IV: English language arts teachers in grades 7–12 understand an extensive body of literature and literary genres and provide students with opportunities to read diverse types of literature and to view literature as a source for exploring and interpreting human experiences.

READ 4243. Methods of Teaching Intermediate and Secondary Language Arts
Prerequisites: Admission to the teacher education program and EDUC 3183, SPED 3613, EDUC 3163, and EPSY 3153 completed in accordance with program requirements.
Description: Developing and learning teaching methods to teach and assess reading, writing, listening, speaking, and researching for diverse learners in Grades 4-12. Instructional strategies and models, thematic/ unit development and teaching, metacognitive skills, and effective uses for text, media, and technology will be included. Field experience required.
Lecture/Lab 3(2-2)
Course Objectives and/or additional information:

Course Standards
NCTE Standards for Initial Teacher Preparation Standards 7-12
Content Pedagogy: Planning Literature and Reading Instruction in ELA
III. Candidates plan instruction and design assessments for reading and the study of literature to promote learning for all students.

Content Pedagogy: Planning Composition Instruction in ELA
IV. Candidates plan instruction and design assessments for composing texts (i.e., oral, written, and visual) to promote learning for all students.

Learners and Learning: Implementing English Language Arts Instruction
V. Candidates plan, implement, assess, and reflect on research-based instruction that increases motivation and active student engagement, builds sustained learning of English language arts, and responds to diverse students’ context-based needs.

Professional Knowledge and Skills
VI. Candidates demonstrate knowledge of how theories and research about social justice, diversity, equity, student identities, and schools as institutions can enhance students’ opportunities to learn in English Language Arts.

VII. Candidates are prepared to interact knowledgeably with students, families, and colleagues based on social needs and institutional roles, engage in leadership and/or collaborative roles in English Language Arts professional learning communities, and actively develop as professional educators.

TExES English Language Arts and Reading
English Language Arts and Reading 7–12

Standard IV: English language arts teachers in grades 7–12 understand an extensive body of literature and literary genres and provide students with opportunities to read diverse types of literature and to view literature as a source for exploring and interpreting human experiences. English Language Arts and Reading 7–12

Standard V: English language arts teachers in grades 7–12 understand that writing is a recursive, developmental, integrative and ongoing process and provide students with opportunities to develop competence as writers. English Language Arts and Reading 7–12

Standard VI: English language arts teachers in grades 7–12 understand how to write effectively for various audiences and purposes and provide students with opportunities to write in a variety of forms and contexts. English Language Arts and Reading 7–12

Standard VII: English language arts teachers in grades 7–12 understand the structure and development of the English language and provide students with opportunities to develop related knowledge and skills in meaningful contexts. English Language Arts and Reading 7–12

Standard VIII: English language arts teachers in grades 7–12 understand oral communication and provide students with opportunities to develop listening and speaking skills. English Language Arts and Reading 7–12

Standard IX: English language arts teachers in grades 7–12 understand how to interpret, analyze and produce visual images and messages in various media and provide students with opportunities to develop skills in this area.

4. Dr. Brown Marsden made a motion that the following undergraduate course and catalog changes in Mechanical Engineering be adopted; Dr. Johnston seconded and the motion was unanimously adopted. (closed)

Course and Catalog Change, effective Summer I, 2016
Change of Course Description

MENG 4122. Machine Control Programming
Prerequisite: MENG 3203
Description: Logic controller programming with an emphasis on motor control using variable speed drives. Also includes CAM programming using software and CNC equipment. Companion lab. Programmable logic programming with an emphasis on motor control using open loop and closed loop systems. The course will use a variety of mathematical blocks, including PID control programming. The course will also use simulation software and real world equipment to control equipment. Companion lab.

5. Dr. Brown Marsden made a motion that the following undergraduate course and catalog changes in the Petroleum Engineering Certificate program be adopted; Dr. Johnston seconded and the motion was unanimously adopted. (closed)

Course and Catalog Changes
Petroleum Engineering Certificate (PEC) Program

The Petroleum Engineering Certificate (PEC) is designed to prepare individuals to work in the oil and gas industries. The PEC program is primarily concerned with physical geology, fluid and rock properties, formation evaluation, exploration, development, drilling, and management of oil and gas resources. The PEC program will help individuals to understand reservoir engineering, production engineering, drilling engineering, and oil well completion. Upon completion students will be able to design and select drilling and production equipment, estimate reserves, and manage oil and gas properties. The number of credit hours required for the PEC program is 20 semester credit hours.
New Course Addition, effective fall 2016

PETE 3233. Well Logging
Prerequisites: PETE 2103, MATH 1634
Description: Introduction to the basic hydrocarbon reservoir formation evaluation using open-hole logs, laboratory and field measurements data, and geological information. This course will essentially deal with geological strata identification and the determination of physical properties of petroleum fluids and reservoir rocks. Additional topics include the determination of the lithology of hydrocarbon reservoirs, rocks porosity, permeability, and fluids saturation distribution in hydrocarbon reservoirs.
Lecture 3 (3-0)
Course Objectives and/or additional information:
Students will learn:
1. Basic Relationships of Well Log Interpretation.
2. Properties of Rocks
3. Borehole Environments and Caliper Logging
4. Spontaneous Potential (SP) Log
5. Gamma Ray (GR) Log.
6. Resistivity log.
8. Clean Formation Interpretation.
10. Shale Formation Interpretation.

Proposed Changes and Rationale

1. This is a certificate program for post-baccalaureate students who already have a Bachelor of Science in Mechanical Engineering Degree (BSME).

1. The PEC program is open to students who have completed the prerequisites for PEC courses. Some transferred petroleum engineering courses may be applied toward the PEC program after evaluation by the School of Engineering. There are three types of students who may be considered for admission to the certificate program, those who have already completed a bachelor’s degree and apply as post-baccalaureate students; those who are working on a bachelor’s degree, which must be completed before the certificate can be awarded; and those who are simultaneously working on a Master of Science degree in Geosciences. Admission to the PEC program as a post-baccalaureate student requires a minimum 2.0 cumulative GPA for the undergraduate degree.

2. Students will meet the petroleum engineering certificate requirements with 20 semester credit hours, including 11 required hours [GEOS 1134: Physical Geology, PETE 2103: Introduction to Petroleum Engineering, PETE 4204: Formation Evaluation and Reservoir Engineering] and at least 9 hours of elective courses from PETE 2123: Fluid Properties, PETE 2213: Rock Properties, PETE 3203: Drilling Engineering, PETE 3233 Well Logging, and PETE 4273: Petroleum Production Operations. Only GEOS 1134 Physical Geology is permitted to be counted toward both the certificate and another academic program or major.
3. A post-baccalaureate certificate in petroleum engineering will be awarded upon completion of 20 semester credit hours with a G.P.A of 2.0 or above in PEC courses. The student must complete the application for certificate and pay the certificate application fee by the stated deadlines. (See Academic calendar – the same deadlines apply that are used for graduation.)

Required coursework:

GEOS 1134: Physical Geology 4 (3-2)
Elements of earth science including the study of earth materials, interpretation of geologic evidence and study of geological processes.
Prerequisites: none

PETE 2103: Introduction to Petroleum Engineering 3 (3-0)
Petroleum origin and migration, major oil and gas fields, drilling and production methods, petroleum composition and phase behavior, and reservoir engineering methods for estimation of hydrocarbon reserves and for maximizing ultimate resource recovery. Major oil onshore and offshore areas of the world reviewed from the standpoints of geologic and depositional environment, and of diagenetic changes affecting petroleum entrapment.
Prerequisite: none

PETE 2123: Fluid Properties 3 (3-0)
Fundamental properties of petroleum fluids: Phase behavior and PVT properties of dry, wet and retrograde condensate natural gases, as well as volatile and black oils, fluid property estimates using correlations; flash and differential vaporization; introduction to gas-liquid equilibria; properties of oil field water; gas hydrates and their prevention.
Prerequisites: CHEM 1141/1143 and MATH 1634

PETE 2213: Rock Properties 3 (3-0)
Fundamental properties of petroleum reservoir rocks: porosity, permeability, electrical and mechanical properties, fluid flow characteristics of rock containing multiple fluid saturations, relative permeability, and capillary pressure.
Prerequisites: GEOS 1134, MATH 1634

PETE 3203: Drilling Engineering 3 (3-0)
Introduction to drilling technology, drilling fluids, rheological properties, drilling hydraulics, drill bit selection, pressure loss calculations, casing design, well cementing, pore pressure and geo-mechanical considerations in drilling, introduction to directional drilling and deviated wells.
Prerequisites: PETE 2103, PETE 2213, MENG 3104.

PETE 3233. Well Logging 3 (3-0)
Description: Introduction to the basic hydrocarbon reservoir formation evaluation using open-hole logs, laboratory and field measurements data, and geological information. This course will essentially deal with geological strata identification and the determination of physical properties of petroleum fluids and reservoir rocks. Additional topics include the determination of the lithology of hydrocarbon reservoirs, rocks porosity, permeability, and fluids saturation distribution in hydrocarbon reservoirs.

Prerequisites: PETE 2103, MATH 1634

PETE 4204: Formation Evaluation and Reservoir Engineering 4(3-2)
(Same subject as GEOS 4134: Applied Petroleum Geology)
Using the reservoir lifecycle as a unifying theme, this course focuses on practical aspects of formation evaluation, reservoir characterization, geological modeling, and dynamic forecasting for oil and gas reservoirs. Major topics are (1) interpretation and integration of reservoir data obtained from well logs, cores, reservoir fluids, and seismic data and (2) building and using geological reservoir models to assess hydrocarbon in place volumes within a probabilistic framework. Additional topics include reservoir engineering concepts and forecasting tools, reserves calculation, the use decision analysis for value of information (VOI) and economic decisions, reservoir development including IOR/EOR (Improved Oil Recovery/Enhanced Oil Recovery) methods, and reservoir monitoring techniques.

Prerequisites: GEOS 1134 and PETE 2103; or GEOS 1134, 3134, and 3434; or consent of the instructor.

PETE 4273: Petroleum Production Operations 3 (3-0)
Introduction to the producing wellbore system; single and multi-phase flow in vertical and horizontal wells; inflow performance relationships; effect of formation damage on well flow; well completions; perforating methods and their effect on inflow; chokes performance; stimulation treatments; petroleum production methods; natural flow and artificial lift systems, nodal systems analysis.

Prerequisites: PETE 2103.

6. Dr. Watson made a motion that the following undergraduate course and catalog changes in Philosophy be adopted; Dr. Kitchen seconded and the motion was unanimously adopted. (closed)

Change to Minor Requirements

REQUIREMENTS FOR A MINOR IN PHILOSOPHY (18 semester hours)
Philosophy 1033, Philosophy 2033, three hours of coursework in the history of philosophy (3033, 3133, 3233, or 3333, 3433, or 3533 if topic is historical in nature), and nine additional semester hours of which six must be advanced.

FYI: Titles of 3433 and 3533 are Existentialism and Special Topics in Philosophy.

7. Dr. Watson made a motion that the following undergraduate course and catalog changes in Philosophy be adopted; Dr. Johnston seconded and the motion was unanimously adopted. (closed)

Addition to Core Curriculum, effective fall 2016 (if approved by the MSU Board of Regents and the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board)

Foundational Component Area: Language, Philosophy, and Culture
Component Area Option: Cultural and Global Understanding

HIST 2003. Australia and the World
Description: A transnational history of Australia, its place in the world, and its relationships with the British Empire, the United States, Greater Asia, and other international entities. Major themes consider Australia’s place in the global community, European and Aboriginal relations, the Outback in a global economy, and the Wild West in Australian popular culture.

New Course Addition, effective fall 2016

HIST 4003. Australia and the World
Description: A transnational history of Australia, its place in the world, and its relationships with the British Empire, the United States, Greater Asia, and other international entities. Major themes consider Australia’s place in the global community, European and Aboriginal relations, the Outback in a global economy, and the Wild West in Australian popular culture. A research project that exhibits solid historical research and analysis is required. May not be taken if student has received credit for HIST 2003. Lecture 3(3-0)

Course Objectives and/or Additional Information:
1) Identify and critique historical and contemporary interpretations and analyses of social issues and human behavior in the history of Australia.
2) Identify and appreciate differences and commonalities between Australian culture and its various international associates such as Great Britain, the United States, and various Asian nations.
3) Demonstrate knowledge of the global influence on the origins and evolution of Australian and Aboriginal societies, cultural institutions, political systems, and economic policies and practices.
4) Understand and be able to cogently discuss major trends and themes in Australian History and how evolving international relationships enhance understandings of contemporary Australian experiences.
5) Discuss and exhibit a solid knowledge of Australian historiography.
6) Create, support, and justify a research project that identifies and investigates a significant research topic in Australian global history.

8. Dr. Watson made a motion that the following undergraduate course and catalog changes in English, Humanities, and Philosophy be adopted; Dr. Brown Marsden seconded and the motion was unanimously adopted. (closed)

Mission Statement for the Prothro-Yeager College of Humanities and Social Sciences

The purpose of the Prothro-Yeager College of Humanities and Social Sciences is threefold. First, the college provides for students throughout the university a broadly based liberal arts curriculum designed to empower them with the fundamental language and communication skills as well as the critical thinking skills necessary for a lifetime of learning and achievement. Secondly, the college offers general education courses in the modern languages, literature, history, philosophy, humanities, political science, sociology, and psychology, which provide a foundation of knowledge necessary in the development of those cultural and aesthetic values that enrich the individual and are essential for a meaningful and productive life. Lastly, the college affords preparation for careers in teaching and a wide range of further graduate and professional studies in such fields as English, history, political science, psychology, the law, the ministry, library science, and museum management.

The Prothro-Yeager College of Humanities and Social Sciences offers majors, minors, programs, and courses in Applied Arts and Sciences, English, Foreign Languages, History, Humanities, International Studies, Philosophy, Political Science, Psychology, Social Studies, and Sociology.

Dr. Capps seconded and the motion was unanimously adopted. (closed)

Addition of New Minor in English

Program Title: Great Books

Justification: As a member of the Council of Public Liberal Arts Colleges (COPLAC), Midwestern is designated as the liberal arts university for Texas, and the president and provost are working to enhance and emphasize liberal arts at the university. The study of “Great Books,” defined as primary texts that have significantly influenced Western and world cultures, is considered by many to be an essential component of a liberal arts institution. The Association for Core Texts and Courses (ACTC), of which MSU has been an institutional member for two years, states that Great Books are an essential component of a “sound liberal education.” In addition, MSU’s Quality Enhancement Plan, as part of our SACS accreditation, calls for an emphasis on undergraduate research and creative activity. All of these missions could be furthered with the addition of an interdisciplinary minor in Great Books.

Many highly respected liberal arts institutions have a minor in Great Books, sometimes called a minor in Great Ideas.

Examples of liberal arts institutions with a minor in Great Books (Great Ideas):
Baylor University
Carthage College
East Carolina University
Middle Tennessee State University
St. Anselm College
St. Thomas University

Requirements: Students would take courses that devote a substantial amount of time to reading and discussing Great Books (primary texts) in any discipline, in any department. Because the Department of English, Humanities, and Philosophy offers a large number of such courses in three different disciplines, students would be required to take a certain number of those courses in that department, specifically:

18 hrs., at least 9 adv.
  3 hrs. ENGL
  3 hrs. HUMN
  3 hrs. PHIL
  9 hrs. in these disciplines or any other discipline, as appropriate (e.g., HIST, POLS)

Current courses that devote a substantial amount of time to Great Books include the following, without limitation:
ENGL 2413 World Literature I
ENGL 2423 World Literature II
ENGL 2613 Survey of American Literature I
ENGL 2623 Survey of American Literature II
ENGL 2813 Survey of English Literature I
ENGL 2823 Survey of English Literature II
ENGL 3343 The American Novel
ENGL 3503 Advanced Survey of Literature
ENGL 3713 Special Topics in American Literature and Life, as appropriate
ENGL 3733 Special Topics: Texts and Contexts
ENGL 4533 Literary Theory and Criticism
ENGL 4553 Rhetorical Theory and Criticism
ENGL 4613 Special Topics: Literary Authors or Themes, as appropriate
ENGL 4623 American Romantic Movement
ENGL 4633 American Realism and Naturalism

10. Dr. Capps made a motion that the following graduate course and catalog changes in Geosciences be adopted; Dr. Kitchen seconded and the motion was unanimously adopted. (closed)

Change of Course Title and Course Description, effective fall 2016

GEOS 5323. Clastic Depositional Systems and Sequence Stratigraphy
This course covers all aspects of terrestrial and marine siliciclastic depositional systems and stratigraphy. The course will discuss characteristics of geologic and modern systems across a range of environments (deltas, lakes, shorelines, barrier islands, alluvial and submarine fans, turbidite systems etc.). Students will develop an understanding of clastic sequence stratigraphy, identifying cycles, and the mechanisms responsible for deep-water sedimentation. Other topics include: paleoclimate reconstruction, gravity flow processes, water-rock interactions, subsurface applications, and siliciclastic petrology. Lecture will be supplemented by applied learning with thin sections, core, and hand samples. Concepts will be reinforced with advanced readings and discussion of topics related to siliciclastic depositional systems, including major siliciclastic petroleum reservoirs including how sequence stratigraphic methods are used in petroleum exploration.

New Course Addition, effective fall 2016

READ 6403. Assessment Practicum
Description: Examines and applies different assessment strategies in a school setting. This course involves the study and use of standardized and informal instruments for determining kinds of reading difficulties. Students will demonstrate competencies in the use of the test instruments, interview procedures, and report writing.

Course Objectives and/or additional information:
This course is designed to inform in-service teachers about diagnostic teaching and diagnostic procedures, to familiarize in-service teachers with various informal and formal diagnostic assessments, and to provide information about how to use diagnostic assessment information, contextual information, and knowledge of instructional strategies and resources to mediate instruction according to the strengths and needs of individual readers and writers.

READ 6223. Discipline Literacy
Description: Examines discipline literacy across the content areas.
Provides an overview of content area reading practices and language arts programs at middle and high school levels; these practices and programs are intended to focus on efficient reading, writing, and study strategies across the curriculum with diverse populations.
Lecture 3(3-0)
Course Objectives and/or Additional Information:
The course is designed for classroom teachers with the knowledge and strategies that they need to help students read and write more proficiently in the content areas (primarily science, social studies, math, English, arts & media, and technical/applied education).
READ 6293 will enable students to demonstrate skills in each of the IRA standards.

Reading Education, M.Ed.

Mission Statement: The Master of Education degree with a major in reading education prepares the classroom teacher in all aspects of reading instruction. The program will enable the student to explore current theory, research, and best practices in reading instruction and assessment. Upon completion of the degree the student will be eligible to apply for professional certification as a Reading Specialist and will be prepared for a variety of careers in the field of reading. Reading specialists are required to have 160 hours of supervised experience in accredited schools. Field experience is required in several courses, including two practicums, which contribute to this requirement. Completion of the master's program in reading education enables the student to apply for Professional Certification as a Reading Specialist (1-12) upon satisfactory completion of the state mandated TExES requirement.

A probationary certificate for Reading Specialist is available upon completion of any 24 hours of the Master of Education in Reading Education Program. The probationary certificate requires an employment offer as a Reading Specialist and a passing score on the state certification exam. Students who apply for a probationary certificate must pay the required fees for the certificate, the mentor teacher, and the supervisor.
All students must meet the admission standards of the University and the West College of Education. Professional Certification as a Reading Specialist (1-12) requires an elementary or secondary provisional certificate and three years of classroom teaching in an accredited school. Students may enroll in the program without three years of classroom teaching experience, but they cannot be certified until they meet the three year teaching requirement. Completion of one additional course enables the student to apply for Master Reading Teacher certificate.
The graduate program requires 36 semester hours. Each candidate is required to submit a satisfactory research paper directly related to some phase of the graduate program. A portfolio presentation may be required as a part of the master's oral comprehensive examination.

The program provides a theoretical base and practical application that prepares the learner to create, design, develop, and implement educational technology and instructional technology design. Upon completion of the degree in-service teachers with at least three years of teaching experience will be eligible to apply for state certification as a Master Technology Teacher if the following requirements are met: a valid elementary or secondary teaching certificate, three years of teaching experience, and a passing score on the state certification exam for Master Technology Teacher. All graduates will be prepared to enter the job market for instructional design and technology positions. Graduates will be well prepared in online pedagogies and online instructional design.

All students must meet the admission standards of the University and the West College of Education, and provide official Graduate Record Exam (GRE) scores that are less than five years old with their application packet. Each candidate is required to complete an action research paper related directly to some phase of the graduate program and to the student's professional work whenever possible. An electronic portfolio that demonstrates the student's skills as technology proficient educators is also required.
