The prices for letterhead, envelopes, and business cards will remain the same. Samples are attached to this week’s newsletter. A business card order form is available at the Printing Services web-page or go directly to http://www.mwsu.edu/printshop/.

Electronic Letterhead

Letterhead for sending electronic correspondence is also available by contacting the MSU Print Shop. Please note that this format is for electronic correspondence only. All other correspondence should be printed on the university’s official letterhead.

Logos

Logos can be found at the campus portal at: https://my.mwsu.edu/group/public-information-and-marketing/home. Should you need a special setup, please contact the Office of Marketing and Public Information at ext. 4352 or email public.information@mwsu.edu.

Should you have any special needs or have additional questions, contact the Office of Marketing and Public Information.

Procurement Card Notice

Recently several cardholder’s have had their cards compromised by no fault of their own. When Citibank sees a charge that looks out of the ordinary, they will suspend your account and either send you an email or call your business number to verify whether the charge in question belongs to you.

For security purposes:

Do not respond to an any email (or click on any hyperlinks) from anyone requesting card information from you. Fraudulent individuals can cut a paste from legitimate websites to create an authentic looking e-mail (to include hyperlinks that may take you to a website that is other than what is advertised).

If someone calls claiming to be from the bank, politely ask if you can call them back (do not give them any card information). If it’s the bank, they will understand. If it’s not, they will continue to press until they get what they want.

Call the customer service number on the back of your procurement card to ensure you are actually talking to someone from the bank.

If your card has been compromised, the bank will cancel the card and reissue a new one that will be forwarded to the Purchasing Department.

If you have any additional questions or concerns, call ext. 4095.
